An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleaning, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a positive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Extensive preparations are being made by the W. C. T. U., for the K. of P., banquet to be spread by them in Howe's Hall to-night. From the pains the ladies are taking to insure its success, and to have all who attend nicely cared for, there will necessarily follow only words of praise. These ladies will spread a lunch Wednesday, commencing at 12 o'clock, and it is hoped all who can will patronize them, thereby aiding them in a worthy cause, and assist in fitting up their rooms. Lunch will be served for 25 cents.

Those who intend going to the inauguration should consult with Mr. W. A. Williams regarding routes, sleeping car rates, etc. He represents the C. & O. the direct Washington

CREAM OF NEWS.

Got His Arm Crushed.

Alfred Williams, an N. N. & M. V. brakeman, had one of his arms badly crushed at Princeton one day last week while coupling cars. Williams has only been in the railroad company's service for a short while, and was at one time editor and proprietor of the Guthrie Blade.

Went Like Hot Cakes.

Of the 400 lower floor seats at the Opera House 331 were placed on sale yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the others having been marked off for the season. Galbreath's store was jammed with people long before that hour and in fifteen minutes all of the seats were gone at 55 cents each, and a hundred people were turned away disappointed. There are 250 seats in the gallery that will be sold at the door to-morrow night. It is safe to say that 600 people will be clamoring for the seats before the doors are opened.

The Chautauque missed a great opportunity by not putting the seats at $1.00.

Circuit Court.

The time having expired for the filing of suits for the next term of Circuit Court the Clerk is busy arranging the docket. There have been 97 new suits filed. The number of common law, or jury causes continued from the last term and those transferred from the Common Pleas dockets amounts to 67. There are 220 Equity causes and 144 Common-law cases. Owing to the fact that there were many cases continued at the last two terms of court the civil part of the docket is unusually heavy. Court commences next Monday and will be in session six weeks, closing April 8th. The four weeks term commences the first Monday in June, and the third term for this year convenes on the fourth Monday in September, continuing six weeks.

Incendiary Work Near Kelly.

Last Friday night Mr. Monroe Boyd, living two miles east of Kelly, had the misfortune to lose his stable and contents by fire. The stable was a new one and was a very large and commodious building. In the loft and sheds were stored about 125 barrels of corn, a lot of wagon, gear and buggy harness, and some machinery, all of which was consumed together with five head of good work horses. The loss can hardly be estimated accurately, but will probably foot up nearly $2,100. That the fire was of incendiary origin is beyond doubt, as there had been no fire about the building the previous day and everything was looked up securely. Mr. Boyd has no insurance on his property and the loss falls very heavily upon him.

Drowned in Little River.

An eleven-year-old son of Mr. Lassiter, miller at Wilford's mill near Cadiz, was accidentally drowned while crossing the mill-dam last Wednesday. The boy undertook to walk across the dam, over which the water was pouring, and slipping fell into the water below, a distance of several feet. He was a good swimmer, but the water was very cold and no doubt caused cramping, as the little fellow sunk almost immediately and never rose until his lifeless body was dragged out some hours later. The father of the little fellow while standing at one of the windows of the mill saw his son fall from the dam into the water, but when he reached the spot where the boy disappeared he could render no assistance.

John Allison's Great Speech.

Since Muhlenberg county has redeemed herself by going Democratic, John Allison's great speech at the Russellville ratification is recalled. John lives at Greenville and everybody in this part of Kentucky knows him and his unquenchable thirst for ardent spirits, that renders his talents useless to himself and his community. At the Russellville blow-out last fall John was on hand and was called out for a speech. He spoke briefly and to the point and this is what he said: "Fellow-citizens and candidates for the post-offices: With the exception of Maine, Pennsylvania, and Muhlenberg county, everything has gone Democratic. The reason why he did not go Democratic is that we had no electors in that precinct. I thank you for your want of attention."

Pembroke White Caps.

Last Tuesday night white caps seized Henry Kenner, a young Pembroke farmer, while on his way home, and proceeded to administer a sound thrashing. Kenner had spent the day in Clarksville and returned to Pembroke on the accommodation train. On arriving at the station he secured a lantern and lighting it started to walk home. Just as he reached a point outside the corporation he was set upon. Before he could get a view of the band one of them struck him with a stick, smashing it and putting out the light. They then seized him and whipped him with long switches almost to insensibility. He was then told if he did not meet his ways that another dose more severe would be forthcoming. Rumor has it that he has been charged with failing to treat his mother properly. Mr. Kenner claims to be ignorant of the cause of the assault.

Our Sheriff Gets an "Eye-Opener."

The job of "breaking one in" in any new business devolves upon some one posted in that particular line, and our newly elected Sheriff, Mr. Davis, was given an introductory lesson into the mysteries last Saturday afternoon. It came up this way: About four years ago one George Crowley, of Northeast Christian, was indicted on a charge of tipping without a license. Deputy Sheriff Cravens went out and arrested him. The father of the young man insisted that they have before returning to the city.

ley went out to get some wood for the fire and failed to return. Cravens made a search for him, but failed to find him and returned to the city. Crowley since that time has made himself exceedingly scarce around where officers are likely to go. On Saturday he ventured into the city, however, and Mr. Davis was informed of the fact of his presence, and arming himself with the proper papers went out on a hunt for him. He was told that he was in a certain saloon, and walking in upon him the Sheriff asked the man at the bar, who was just taking a drink, if his name was Crowley. Crowley quickly replied, "My name's not Crowley, my name's Pugh." This settled the matter for the time being, the Sheriff withdrawing, and Crowley taking his drink left the house. Mr. Davis related to his friend the result of the interview, but his friend insisted that the man in question was Crowley "beyond doubt." Mr. Davis, by this time, was satisfied that he had been "played for time," and going hastily around the corner of Sixth and Virginia streets to "Trading Alley," came up with his man again, who was mounted and in the act of leaving the city. This time he ordered him to halt and dismount, which order was obeyed, and he was taken into custody. Later he gave bond to answer at the next term of Circuit Court, and was released. Thus ends Mr. Davis' first "little experience" in Sheriffing.

The Handsomest of All Coins.

This proud distinction is generally conceded to the United States' twenty-dollar gold piece, a marvel of beauty in design and finish. The loveliest of God's handiwork is a handsome woman, in the bloom of health; if she is not Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore her. Ladies, who use this peerless remedy are unanimous in its praise, for it cures those countless ills which are the bane of their sex—irregularities, dragging-down pains, inflammation, hysteria, sleeplessness, and the "all-gone" sensations which burden their daily lives. A tonic and nerve, without alcohol.

Pete Johnson, an old colored man at Elkton, died on the evening of Feb. 11. The body was prepared for burial and neighbors watched over it through the night. Sunday morning just before the funeral was to take place a colored woman took a basin of water and towel and dampening one end of the cloth began to gently wipe the face of the supposed corpse, when the eyes of the old man suddenly opened and he exclaimed: "What de debble is you doin', honey?" The old negro had been in a trance for sixteen hours. He is still alive and may recover.

This Is Meant For You.

It has been truly said that one half the world does not know how the other half lives. Comparatively few of us have perfect health, owing to the impure blood. But we rub along from day to day, with scarcely a thought, unless forced to our attention, of the thousands of people all about us who are suffering from scrofula, salt rheum, and other serious blood disorders, and whose agonies can only be imagined. The marked success of Hood's Sarsaparilla for these troubles, as shown in our advertising columns frequently, certainly seems to justify urging the use of this excellent medicine by all who know their blood is disordered. Every claim in regard to Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully backed up by what the medicine has done and is still doing, and when its proprietors urge its merits and its use upon all who suffer from impure blood, in great or small degrees, they certainly mean to include you.

The general merchandising store of Mr. F. W. Owen, at Kelly, was burglarized last Thursday night and about $500 in cash was secured and carried off. The burglars left no clue behind as to their identity, and it is not likely that they will ever be caught. It is understood that Mr. Owen has offered a reward of $50 for any information that will lead to arrest and conviction. The merchandise in the store was not molested and would only money and knegs just where to strike to get it.

Hood's Cures.

In saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, its proprietors make no idle or extravagant claim. Statements from thousands of reliable people of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them, conclusively prove the fact—HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA CURES.

Hood's Pills act especially on the liver, routing it in its natural duty.
